

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Guest

I've detected the major problems of the IntelliJ IDEA.

The company seems to be a small one, CEO centered - and I doubt that they can keep up with development, especially as they do not use in any way open-source contribution mechanics (e.g. for lower-grade subsystems).

The reaction on a job application (cooperation as an independent) which i've placed over 2 weeks ago (I'm aware about holidays) remained unprocessed - which is a very ungentle behaviour.

[job application and some examples mailed to job@jetbrains, CEO, and Rob.Harwood, thus my suggestions get "employee-level visibility"]

The CEO of jetBrains seems to be a core-developer. This cannot work, as the CEO needs to have a clear brain (without any coding activity traps) to plan, overview and direct the company.

At this point, the CEO should have already reacted to my messages and to the content of this thread, possibly with a suggestion like "free my mind thus I can focus on development".

-

The response within JetBrains on feedback is minimal or zero, which indicates a low evolution speed.

-

-

-

I'm not sure if I'll start development with IDEA or if I move on to the last remaining IDE:

the borland one (don't even know the name).

I'm preconceived, due to worse experiences with C++ Builder. OOAD was not encouraged by this tool.

-

Will see.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 1. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 9, 2005 3:02 PM

Hello Ilias,

Please, stop spam here... And please go back to your Abstract Solutions that you are spent your last 20 years. Do not force as to ask NNTP admins block you as it was for Eclipse news server.

Thank you

--

Alexey Efimov, Java Developer

Tops BI

<http://www.topsbi.ru>

Guest 2. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 9, 2005 3:32 PM

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Alexey Efimov wrote:

Hello Ilias,

Please, stop spam here... And pl

Where is Hani when you need him?

A.

Guest 3. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 9, 2005 3:50 PM

Hello Alain,

AR> Where is Hani when you need him?

I'm afraid it is 'heavy artillery' 😊)

Thanks!

--

Alexey Efimov, Java Developer

Tops BI

<http://www.topsbi.ru>

Guest 4. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 11, 2005 1:27 AM

Did Ilias do an evaluation of Eclipse?

Alexey Efimov wrote:

Hello Ilias,

Please, stop spam here... And please go back to your Abstract Solutions that you are spent your last 20 years. Do not force as to ask NNTP admins block you as it was for Eclipse news server.

Thank you

--

Alexey Efimov, Java Developer

Tops BI

<http://www.topsbi.ru>

Guest 5. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 11, 2005 11:28 AM

Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

> Did Ilias do an evaluation of Eclipse?

yes, you find pointers to the eclipse and netbeans evaluations within the E02 thread:

EVALUATION - E02 - Open Source Technology Stack

[http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?
forum=27&thread=121535&message=3435613&q=453032#3435613](http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=121535&message=3435613&q=453032#3435613)

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Dmitry Kashin 1,052 posts since

Aug 23, 2002 6. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 9, 2005 3:44 PM

Hi Ilias,

Can you evaluate MS Visual Studio .NET for us, check your rules on it and discuss MS team, CEO, support and team quality and community too.

You can make it right in this forum, comparison very interestin for us.

Thanks,

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Dmitry

Guest 7. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 10, 2005 11:30 AM

Dmitry Kashin wrote:

Hi Ilias, Can you evaluate MS Visual Studio .NET for us, check your rules on it and discuss MS team, CEO, support and team quality and community too.

I'm not sure if they fulfill the basic requirements (implementation):

<http://lazaridis.com/case/stack/index.html#requirements>

You can make it right in this forum, comparison very interestin for us.

[I estimate this would take me one month. I cannot do this at this moment, at least not without a sponsor.]

I currently have to decide:

- evaluation of Borland JDeveloper
- starting with IntelliJ IDEA, although

- JetBrains seems to have low "gentleness"
- JetBrains seems to have low "evolution speed".

If I fail with both, JetBrains and Borland, then I will most possibly move to .NET.

I've read something about an open source implementation from Novell.

-

but for now, I'm still here.

Thanks, Dmitry

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Dmitry Kashin 1,052 posts since

Aug 23, 2002 8. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 10, 2005 12:10 PM

IDEA doesn't fit following requirements.

It not "Based on Open Source (OSI compliant licensing)" and "Language neutral".

And other stack requirements too.

Go forward and skip IDEA cause it won't pass your test anyway, don't waste your time.

Thanks,

Dmitry

Guest 9. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 10, 2005 12:51 PM

Dmitry Kashin wrote:

IDEA doesn't fit following requirements.

It not "Based on Open Source (OSI compliant licensing)" and "Language neutral".

And other stack requirements too.

Those requirements are for the runtime (e.g. J2EE execution environment, like Tomcat + mySQL + ORM + ...).

"Language neutral" subjects mostly the open standards (e.g. ODMG OODBMS access instead of language specific JDO).

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Go forward and skip IDEA cause it won't pass your test anyway, don't waste your time.

No, IDEA can be closed source.

Everything that IDEA produces (and the needed runtime-library) should fulfill whenever possible the requirements (see thread E03, where I await an official answer).

Thanks,

Dmitry

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 10. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 10, 2005 5:29 PM

Nice try Dmitry

Dmitry Kashin wrote:

IDEA doesn't fit following requirements.

It not "Based on Open Source (OSI compliant licensing)" and "Language neutral".

And other stack requirements too.

Go forward and skip IDEA cause it won't pass your test anyway, don't waste your time.

Thanks,

Dmitry

--

"A man's ethical behavior should be based effectually on sympathy, education, and social ties and needs; no religious basis is necessary.

Man would indeed be in a poor way if he had to be restrained by fear of punishment and hope of reward after death."

[Albert Einstein, "Religion and Science", New York Times Magazine, 9 November 1930]

Scott Ellsworth 26 posts since

Sep 18, 2002 11. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 12, 2005 12:39 AM

Are you surprised that replying to you is not JB's highest concern?

You have already made it clear that you consider courtesy to be inefficient, and thus by reflection, any lack of courtesy on their part should be viewed as JB seeking maximal efficiency themselves.

Courtesy and social lubricants exist to maximize the chance of successful communication, like punctuation, and ignoring that is going to drive away a certain fraction of the readers. For example, following the Eclipse link, it is pretty clear that you felt they should adjust their issue tracker to match your usage patterns, rather than you adjusting your usage patterns to match the tracker. It is certainly your right to not participate under those conditions, but it hardly seems to be censorship when they defend their tracker from what they see as misuse. I suspect the same here - you have not given them an intangible reason to address your concerns, and I am not convinced of the tangible benefits.

Scott

Guest 12. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 12, 2005 2:02 PM

Scott Ellsworth wrote:

Are you surprised that replying to you is not JB's highest concern?

yes and no.

You have already made it clear that you consider courtesy to be inefficient, and thus by reflection, any lack of courtesy on their part should be viewed as JB seeking maximal efficiency themselves.

please decouple [personal evaluation context, job application response of a company]

Courtesy and social lubricants exist to maximize the chance of successful communication, like punctuation, and ignoring that is going to drive away a certain fraction of the readers. For example, following the Eclipse link, it is pretty clear that you felt they should adjust their issue tracker to match your usage patterns, rather than you adjusting your usage patterns to match the tracker.

Your summary is false.

I've entered Issues for some non-implemented JSR's (affecting J2SE 5.0 Support).

No one even the Board of Directors of the Eclipse Foundation has the right to obfuscate those issues to reflect non-reality.

PROJECT BUGZILLA - Critical Issues Need Independent Supervision

<http://dev.eclipse.org/newslists/news.eclipse.foundation/msg00251.html>

It is certainly your right to not participate under those conditions, but it hardly seems to be censorship when they defend their tracker from what they see as misuse.

tracker & discussion forums as two separate things.

"

But: as an professional, you should have the ability to decouple.

Even if you decide to reverse my access from Bugzilla as you have done

- this has nothing to do with this forum here [btw: i do not write within the team forums (mailinglists)].

"

ECLIPSE CENSORSHIP - Mike Milinkovich (Eclipse Foundation Director)

Censors Forums

<http://groups-beta.google.com/group/comp.lang.java.softwaretools/msg/ff9ba79be816921d>

I suspect the same here - you have not given them an intangible reason to address your concerns, and I am not convinced of the tangible benefits.

I've given them enough reasons, the benefits are clearly visible.

Possibilities they do not react:

- They are not able/willing to see.
- They are totally captured by activity traps.
- They take everything they need silently.
- They have no courage (to go against mainstream)

Anyway, I continue preliminary) most possibly with IDEA.

Scott

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Rob Bradley 306 posts since

Oct 8, 2003 13. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 12, 2005 11:58 AM

The CEO of JetBrains seems to be a core-developer.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

This cannot work, as the CEO needs to have a clear brain (without any coding activity traps) to plan, overview and direct the company.

Tell that to Bill Gates.

Guest 14. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 1:42 PM

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

I've detected the major problems of the IntelliJ IDEA.

The company seems to be a small one, CEO centered - and I doubt that they can keep up with development, especially as they do not use in any way open-source contribution mechanics (e.g. for lower-grade subsystems).

...

The response within JetBrains on feedback is minimal or zero, which indicates a low evolution speed.

OT: Technology (Was: How many IDEA registered users ?)

<http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=122430&tstart=0&trange=15#3439128>

-

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Believe me: you need some deep viewing 2nd opinions.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 15. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 2:31 PM

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>> I've detected the major problems of the IntelliJ IDEA.

>>

>> The company seems to be a small one, CEO centered - and I doubt that >> they can keep up with development, especially as they do not use in >> any way open-source contribution mechanics (e.g. for lower-grade >> subsystems).

...

>> The response within JetBrains on feedback is minimal or zero, which >> indicates a low evolution speed.

Ilias, I have a suggestion, and I'm serious about it.

There are 2 sides for everything.

The 2 sides of your interaction with this and other forums in my opinion can be summerized in 2 sentences:

1. If 5 people say you're drunk, you probably are.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

2. "If you don't have a consensus that it's nonsense, you don't have a breakthrough." (Said by the inventor of SpaceShipOne, Burt Rutan, cited in Time Magazine of December 6, 2004, page 43 at the end).

What I'm saying is that since you are so sure that you know how to research, develop, market and manage better than anyone else, go ahead and prove everyone wrong by creating something of your own that will be better, faster, leaner and greater.

Your other option is to accept that you're drunk.

Amnon

Guest 16. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 4:38 PM

He is not drunk. Unless you can get drunk from hitting the pipe.

Norris Shelton

Sun Certified Java Programmer

Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>

>> Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>>>

>>> I've detected the major problems of the IntelliJ IDEA.

>>>

>>> The company seems to be a small one, CEO centered - and I doubt that >>> they can keep up with development, especially as they do not use in >>> any way open-source contribution mechanics (e.g. for lower-grade >>> subsystems).

>>

>>

>> ...

>>

>>> The response within JetBrains on feedback is minimal or zero, which >>> indicates a low evolution speed.

>>

>>

>> OT: Technology (Was: How many IDEA registered users ?)

>> [http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?
forum=27&thread=122430&tstart=0&trange=15#3439128](http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=122430&tstart=0&trange=15#3439128)

>>

>>

>> -

>>

>> Believe me: you need some deep viewing 2nd opinions.

>>

>> .

>>

>

Ilias, I have a suggestion, and I'm serious about it.

>

There are 2 sides for everything.

>

The 2 sides of your interaction with this and other forums in my opinion can be summerized in 2 sentences:

>

1. If 5 people say you're drunk, you probably are.
2. "If you don't have a consensus that it's nonsense, you don't have a breakthrough." (Said by the inventor of SpaceShipOne, Burt Rutan, cited in Time Magazine of December 6, 2004, page 43 at the end).

>

What I'm saying is that since you are so sure that you know how to research, develop, market and manage better than anyone else, go ahead and prove everyone wrong by creating something of your own that will be better, faster, leaner and greater.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

>

Your other option is to accept that you're drunk.

>

Amnon

Guest 17. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 5:00 PM

Norris Shelton wrote:

He is not drunk. Unless you can get drunk from hitting the pipe.

Norris Shelton

Sun Certified Java Programmer

Merely a metaphore 😊

Guest 18. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 5:50 PM

Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

...

>> OT: Technology (Was: How many IDEA registered users ?)

>> <http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=122430&tstart=0&trange=15#3439128>

...

>> Believe me: you need some deep viewing 2nd opinions.

...

Ilias, I have a suggestion, and I'm serious about it.

ok

There are 2 sides for everything.

...

What I'm saying is that since you are so sure that you know how to research, develop, market and manage better than anyone else,

This information is false.

but I understand what you like to say go ahead and prove everyone wrong by creating something of your own that will be better, faster, leaner and greater.

This would take me too much time.

First I try to make existent systems (eclipse, NetBeans, JetBrains) etc.
more effective.

Your other option is to accept that you're drunk.

There is another option, too:

Wait and get the confirmation:

How the complex systems like e.g. eclipse/netBeans will fail, due to stubbornness and inefficiency.

How JetBrains will fail with its LOP efforts, as they oversee small but critical details.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 19. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 5:59 PM

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

How JetBrains will fail with its LOP efforts, as they oversee small but critical details.

So you are waiting for others to work like you suggest and make JetBrains and Eclipse fail, while you do nothing but complaining?

Sounds like a plan that would yield great things.

I feel kind of sad for you, as I gave you the benefit of the doubt that you might be right and everyone else (including people who swept whole industries with their inventions, not by waiting and whining that JBuilder didn't do this or that) and here you go and prove me wrong by setting your amazing W&W "plan" (Wait and Whine).

You want to change something? Change it. Create something. Until you do, you will not have the credibility to assume better.

As the saying goes, "Build it and they will come". I will add - don't build it and end up a bitter, loser, unaccomplished bum.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Guest 20. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 7:22 PM

Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>> How JetBrains will fail with its LOP efforts, as they oversee small >> but critical details.

...

As the saying goes, "Build it and they will come". I will add - don't build it and end up a bitter, loser, unaccomplished bum.

I've already build it.

But companies were not willing/capable to see.

Including JetBrains.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Guest 21. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 9:00 PM

If you have built it, you don't need them.

Norris Shelton

Sun Certified Java Programmer

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

>

>> Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>>

>>> How JetBrains will fail with its LOP efforts, as they oversee small >>> but critical details.

>>

...

>

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

>> As the saying goes, "Build it and they will come". I will add - don't >> build it and end up a bitter, loser, unaccomplished bum.

>

>

I've already build it.

>

But companies were not willing/capable to see.

>

Including JetBrains.

>

>

Guest 22. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 9:38 PM

Norris Shelton wrote:

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>> Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

>>> Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>>>

>>>> How JetBrains will fail with its LOP efforts, as they oversee small >>>> but critical details.

>>>

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

>>> As the saying goes, "Build it and they will come". I will add - don't >>> build it and end up a bitter, loser, unaccomplished bum.

>>

>> I've already build it.

>>

>> But companies were not willing/capable to see.

>>

>> Including JetBrains.

>

> If you have built it, you don't need them.

I've built theoretical constructs.

First I try to apply them on existing systems.

If I fail, the I have to build new real systems.

I like to avoid this, to save time.

.

--

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 23. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 10:25 PM

By building I meant building, not contemplating.

Use your theories on a small product, system, company to prove your concepts.

Then people will take you seriously.

I got my current job because I built real technology in my last job, not because I came and said why all of the people around me were wrong.

Good luck,

Amnon

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

Norris Shelton wrote:

>> Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>>

>>> Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

>>>

>>>> Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>>>>

>>>>> How JetBrains will fail with its LOP efforts, as they oversee small >>>>> but critical details.

>>>>

>>>>

>>>> As the saying goes, "Build it and they will come". I will add - >>>> don't build it and end up a bitter, loser, unaccomplished bum.

>>>

>>>

>>> I've already build it.

>>>

>>> But companies were not willing/capable to see.

>>>

>>> Including JetBrains.

>

> If you have built it, you don't need them.

I've built theoretical constructs.

First I try to apply them on existing systems.

If I fail, the I have to build new real systems.

I like to avoid this, to save time.

Guest 24. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 14, 2005 10:48 PM

It sound like he wants to be a professional bullshitter.

Norris Shelton

Sun Certified Java Programmer

Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

By building I meant building, not contemplating.

>

Use your theories on a small product, system, company to prove your concepts.

>

Then people will take you seriously.

>

I got my current job because I built real technology in my last job, not because I came and said why all of the people around me were wrong.

>

Good luck,
Amnon

>

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>

>> Norris Shelton wrote:

>>

>>> Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>>>

>>>> Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

>>>>

>>>>> Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>>>>>

>>>>> How JetBrains will fail with its LOP efforts, as they oversee >>>>> small but critical details.

>>>>>

>>>>>

>>>>>

>>>>> As the saying goes, "Build it and they will come". I will add - >>>>> don't build it and end up a bitter, loser, unaccomplished bum.

>>>>>

>>>>>

>>>>>

>>>>> I've already build it.

>>>>>

>>>>> But companies were not willing/capable to see.

>>>>>

>>>>> Including JetBrains.

>>>>

>>>>

>>>>

>>>>> > If you have built it, you don't need them.

>>>>>

>>>>> I've built theoretical constructs.

>>>>>

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

>> First I try to apply them on existing systems.

>>

>> If I fail, the I have to build new real systems.

>>

>> I like to avoid this, to save time.

>>

>> .

>>

Guest 25. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 15, 2005 1:48 PM

Norris Shelton wrote:

It sound like he wants to be a professional bullshitter.

Norris Shelton

Sun Certified Java Programmer

Has Sun a certification programm for "professional bullshitters"?

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 26. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 15, 2005 1:47 PM

Amnon I. Govrin wrote:

By building I meant building, not contemplating.

I've understood this.

Use your theories on a small product, system, company to prove your concepts.

I do this already.

Then people will take you seriously.

This is not a priority of mine.

I got my current job because I built real technology in my last job, not because I came and said why all of the people around me were wrong.

ok

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

...

>> I've built theoretical constructs.

>>

>> First I try to apply them on existing systems.

>>

>> If I fail, the I have to build new real systems.

>>

>> I like to avoid this, to save time.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Rayz 839 posts since

Aug 27, 2002 27. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 15, 2005 11:27 AM

I've built theoretical constructs.

Then you've actually done nothing. Which is why no-one is going to listen to you when you tell them that they're doing it all wrong.

Guest 28. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 15, 2005 1:51 PM

Rayz wrote:

I've built theoretical constructs.

Then you've actually done nothing. Which is why no-one is going to listen to you when you tell them that they're doing it all wrong.

Your presented facts and assumptions were wrong.

If you like to discuss this further, please use the E05 thread.

<http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=121764&tstart=15&trange=15>

Thank you.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

maas 131 posts since

Nov 23, 2002 29. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 15, 2005 2:26 PM

To all good things there comes an end.

End-of-topic. (please)

Guest 30. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 15, 2005 2:32 PM

Maas van den Berg wrote:

To all good things there comes an end.

End-of-topic. (please)

please filter this thread (or any other you dislike).

-

If you like to discuss this further, please use the E05 thread.

<http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=121764&tstart=15&trange=15>

Thank you.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Hani Suleiman 1,146 posts since

Aug 22, 2002 31. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 15, 2005 7:14 PM

Ahahaha!

Apologies to everyone for not jumping in on this (I usually just monitor the EAP forums), but my oh my, where does one start!

Ilias, I have some tips for you that you should try to incorporate into your master plan. The first and foremost of which to use correct English. Now, I know it isn't your first language and all, but you know what? It's not mine either. However, it's still fairly easy not to mix up your with you're, and not to spell program and programm. Writing broken English is a lot more likely to reveal that you're a brain damaged turd than if you were to be more coherent, and your trolling would rise to the next level.

Secondly, why don't you just bugger off and use JBuilder? How much clearer should it be to you that your presence here is not wanted, needed, or appreciated? I'm sure if jetbrains (or eclipse, or any other entity) needed help running their core business, you'd be last on the list based on your ideas and opinions which have more in common with a crack addled whore's notions of how to run a business than anyone passing third grade.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Did it ever occur to you that any sane company would go out of its way to avoid responding to you, given that you're so clearly the result of an inbreeding generic experiment gone horribly wrong?

Even worse for you, reality seems to be against you too, and regularly spits in your face by making these companies successful, well run, and well appreciated by the 'community'.

On the bright side, your animal cunning does help explain away every reality based fact by insisting that 'eventually' you'll be proven right. Sadly though, with people like you, evolution does not exist, only eternal hope and faith in the power of tomorrow. You're probably surprised day by day at the sun rising, but hold out in hope that your 'there is no sun' theory will finally bear fruit out day, it's just a matter of time eh?

If you have children, please smother them, you'd be doing them and us a huge favour. If you have parents, neuter them, that genetic line is a dead end anyway.

Guest 32. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 15, 2005 7:36 PM

Hani Suleiman wrote:

Ahahaha!

... (comments)

I've overflowed the comments and detected some negative wording, thus I do not read them.

Sorry for not commenting.

If you have children, please smother them, you'd be doing them and us a huge favour. If you have parents, neuter them, that genetic line is a dead end anyway.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

You should keep relatives out of the discussions.

-

If you like to 'discuss' my person further, please use the E05 thread.

<http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=121764&tstart=15&trange=15>

Thank you.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 33. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 17, 2005 12:30 PM

Hani,

I am like most here and want nothing more than for Ilias to go away. But what sort of human being says such sick and offensive things like "If you have children, please smother them", to another human being? I normally find your posts extremely entertaining and often have great respect for what you have to say. In fact the larger proportion of your tirades are not only valid but effective in turning the tide of popular opinion towards what you believe in.

The content of this most recent diatribe, on the other hand, was completely unjustified and in truth lacked the level of maturity associated with someone older than the age of ten? When cries went out for you to interject on this thread and put a stop to the obscure rants of our good friend Ilias, I had high hopes for an intelligent, yet scathing response that would hopefully send him scurrying back to the darkened troll cave from whence he came. But I have to say I was disappointed and saddened by the degree to which you lowered yourself in order to get a cheap laugh? It was out of character (from the little bit I know about your character through reading these forums and your bile blog) and I would have expected better from an adult?

Please stop to think before spilling such pointless and offensive crud onto the forum in future? It makes us all look very small...

Scott

>"Hani Suleiman" <hani@formicary.net> wrote in message >news:24529012.1105805686457.JavaMail.itn@is.intelij.net...

Ahahaha!

>

Apologies to everyone for not jumping in on this (I usually just monitor the EAP forums), but my oh my, where does one start!

>

Ilias, I have some tips for you that you should try to incorporate into your master plan. The first and foremost of which to use correct English. Now, I know it isn't your first language and all, but you know what? It's not mine either. However, it's still fairly easy not to mix up your with you're, and not to spell program and programm. Writing broken English is a lot more likely to reveal that you're a brain damaged turd than if you were to be more coherent, and your trolling would rise to the next level.

>

Secondly, why don't you just bugger off and use JBuilder? How much clearer should it be to you that your presence here is not wanted, needed, or appreciated? I'm sure if jetbrains (or eclipse, or any other entity) needed help running their core business, you'd be last on the list based on your ideas and opinions which have more in common with a crack addled whore's notions of how to run a business than anyone passing third grade.

>

Did it ever occur to you that any sane company would go out of its way to avoid responding to you, given that you're so clearly the result of an inbreeding generic experiment gone horribly wrong?

>

Even worse for you, reality seems to be against you too, and regularly spits in your face by making these companies successful, well run, and well appreciated by the 'community'.

>

On the bright side, your animal cunning does help explain away every reality based fact by insisting that 'eventually' you'll be proven right. Sadly though, with people like you, evolution does not exist, only eternal hope and faith in the power of tomorrow. You're probably surprised day by day at the sun rising, but hold out in hope that your 'there is no sun' theory will finally bear fruit out day, it's just a matter of time eh?

>

If you have children, please smother them, you'd be doing them and us a huge favour. If you have parents, neuter them, that genetic line is a dead end anyway.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Patrik Andersson 219 posts since

Aug 21, 2002 34. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 17, 2005 12:36 PM

"Please stop to think before spilling such pointless and offensive crud onto the forum in future? It makes us all look very small...

Scott"

Did we really need yet another post from someone that doesn't get out much? (Yes, I see the irony).

Guest 35. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 17, 2005 12:45 PM

"Yes, I see the irony"

hmmmm....

Colin Fleming 660 posts since

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Dec 30, 2004 36. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 17, 2005 12:54 PM

FWIW (not much, since I'm new), I'm with Scott. Ilias is annoying as hell, but that post was totally uncalled for and in bad taste. I haven't been around long enough to read more of Hani's posts - as the first one that I've read, it makes him look like a child.

Let's face it, we don't need to bring Ilias' family into it, he provides plenty of material on his own.

Scott Sirovy 130 posts since

Aug 20, 2002 37. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 25, 2005 8:28 PM

I also found Hani's tirade amusing until the end. Poor taste completely. Hopefully he was only kidding and, either way, it doesn't come back to haunt him.

Guest 38. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 19, 2005 9:15 PM

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

I've detected the major problems of the IntelliJ IDEA.

The company seems to be a small one, CEO centered - and I doubt that they can keep up with development, especially as they do not use in any way open-source contribution mechanics (e.g. for lower-grade subsystems).

The reaction on a job application (cooperation as an independent) which I've placed over 2 weeks ago (I'm aware about holidays) remained unprocessed - which is a very ungentle behaviour.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

[job application and some examples mailed to job@jetbrains, CEO, and Rob.Harwood, thus my suggestions get "employee-level visibility"]

...

Copy of job application

2004-12-25

"

-

important

Information about me and my current situation:

EVALUATION - E07 - Sun Microsystems Talent Detection Mechanisms

<http://www.netbeans.org/servlets/ReadMsg?msgId=861153&listName=nbusers>

-

I've played with eclipse but I didn't managed to convince them.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

[note: registration is necessary, to view eclipse archives:

<http://dev.eclipse.org/newsManager/newsRequestForm.html>]

BOARD - Open Letter to Eclipse Foundation Board of Directors

<http://www.eclipse.org/newsportal/article.php?id=100&group=eclipse.foundation>

NEWCOMER - Evaluation Summary: What is Eclipse NOT !

<http://www.eclipse.org/newsportal/article.php?id=52&group=eclipse.foundation>

-

I've played with Sun Microsystems, but this company seems not to be what it would like to be (extraordinarity).

EVALUATION - E10 - Summary: NetBeans is NOT open source, Sun is...

<http://www.netbeans.org/servlets/ReadMsg?msgId=867428&listName=nbusers>

NETBEANS EVALUATION - E13 - "SPL + BCL = Open Source"

http://groups-beta.google.com/group/comp.lang.java.softwaretools/browse_thread/thread/53f37b548c026b5b/d283ea13287d3508

-

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Handling live discussion within public media:

[http://www.javalobby.org/forums/thread.jspa?
threadID=16335&messageID=91821268&tstart=0](http://www.javalobby.org/forums/thread.jspa?threadID=16335&messageID=91821268&tstart=0)

-

-

-

Time is running away - and I need a task.

"Independent Efficiency Management"- applied to jetbrains.

I can evaluate anything, from your website to future development plans (e.g. LOP).

Give me a chance with a small task (like e.g.: 2 days, website evaluation, context "newcomer disappointed from eclipse and netbeans").

-

Find more information on my website.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

[please apologize for my sterile tenor - i'm just exhausted after 4 months of eclipse/netbeans live-analysis]

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

"

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 39. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 19, 2005 9:17 PM

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

...

Copy of job application

2004-12-25

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

...

2004-12-29 (followup message, contains stuff about jetbrains website)

"

so, after lurking a little around on your side, a few things about your site.

you don't give the impression that you could give, because you look much smaller than you are.

-

forums:

<http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=121126&message=3434819#3434819>

-

Main Page\

- unserious impression, too much graphic

- I don't see a serious IDE vendor

=> Focus on IDE

=> get layout & design impressions from 'big-looking' companies.

- basic layout and organisation confusing

=> provide your main menu home, products, ...

=> provide standard navigation

<http://www.jetbrains.com/products.html>

- top menu which appears here should be on main-page, too
- Top section (white) should be inserted into "jetBrains" section (blue)

<http://www.jetbrains.com/idea/>

- too much header (body starts too low)
- "IntelliJ" is overloaded.
- holiday-special becomes annoying
- information overload

=> structure information

- if navigation-speed is critical

=> provide active menus (standard-left-placed)

- do not use drop-down-menus

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

-

Cannot extract what "IntelliJ" is.

Cannot extract what "A" in "IDEA" means.

Product naming switches between "IntelliJ IDEA" and "IDEA".

<http://www.jetbrains.com/company/people/executives.html>

If I remember right, together-Soft was sold for $200 Million to Borland, which shows that the 3 executives came from an impressive company.

Should be stated somehow.

-

I've overflown a LOP document, which sounds intresting.

I was confused that the CEO says thank you to an employee for doing his job.

-

Suggestions:

Redesign Website

- slightly modified design & layout
- modularisation
- reduced information

Evaluate/Correct Product-Definitions & Orientations (especially for Fabrique and the LOP)

- possibilities of Open-Source
- Practical Definitions

this is especially true for "Fabrique" / "LOP", where my correcting intervention can save you many efforts and costs.

I will rewrite the basic requirements expressed here:

TECHNOLOGY - JAVA + NetBeans + ??? = easy & scalable production!

<http://www.netbeans.org/servlets/ReadMsg?msgId=848269&listName=nbusers> and can apply the directly to your products.

-

I can operate budget oriented.

You can say:

Ok, we release budget of X$ for the website redesign suggestions/examples and a budget of X$ for the product-definition (I make product evaluations/definitions mostly whilst analysing/writing website content)

.

"

-

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Guest 40. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 19, 2005 9:19 PM

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>> Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

...

>> Copy of job application

>> 2004-12-25

...

2004-12-29 (followup message, contains stuff about jetbrains website)

...

2005-01-06 (resend of initial application, with additional remark)

[Resend: you should never let someone wait so long, especially when you know that he's in the need of a task.]

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 41. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 19, 2005 9:23 PM

...

>>> Copy of job application

>>> 2004-12-25

>> ...

>>

>> 2004-12-29 (followup message, contains stuff about jetbrains website)

...

2005-01-06 (resend of initial application, with additional remark)

[Resend: you should never let someone wait so long, especially when you know that he's in the need of a task.]

Rod Harwood answered a few hours later on the 2005-01-06 message, justifying why i didn't get a response suggesting to move on if I need urgently a task]

.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 42. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 19, 2005 9:26 PM

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

...

>>>> Copy of job application

>>>> 2004-12-25

>>> ...

>>> 2004-12-29 (followup message, contains stuff about jetbrains website)

>> ...

>> 2005-01-06 (resend of initial application, with additional remark)

>> [Resend: you should never let someone wait so long, especially when >> you know that he's in the need of a task.]

Rod Harwood answered a few hours later on the 2005-01-06 message, justifying why i didn't get a response suggesting to move on if I need urgently a task]

2005-01-19 (resend of initial application, with additional remark)

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

[I close this request here now. I like to tell you that your answering behaviour on a job application is more than unprofessional. A really unbelievable arrogance, which I would expect from large scale companies where applications get lost.]

-

Seems that JetBrains is not capable to detect.

Or they have no cash available.

Anyway, topic closed.

-

Remember to respect the forum fellows: please use the E05 thread for comments going off-topic or subjecting my person.

<http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=121764&tstart=15&trange=15>

Thank you.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 43. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 19, 2005 9:41 PM

Bye Bye

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

>> ...

>>

>>>> Copy of job application

>>>> 2004-12-25

>>>>

>>>> ...

>>>> 2004-12-29 (followup message, contains stuff about jetbrains website)

>>>

>>> ...

>>> 2005-01-06 (resend of initial application, with additional remark)

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

>>> [Resend: you should never let someone wait so long, especially when >>> you know that he's in the need of a task.]

>>

>>

>> Rod Harwood answered a few hours later on the 2005-01-06 message, >> justifying why i didn't get a response suggesting to move on if I need >> urgently a task]

2005-01-19 (resend of initial application, with additional remark)

[I close this request here now. I like to tell you that your answering behaviour on a job application is more that unprofessional. A really unbelievalbe arrogance, which I would expect from large scale companies where applications gets lost.]

-
Seems that JetBrains is not capable to detect.

Or they have no cash available.

Anyway, topic closed.

-

Remember to respect the forum fellows: please use the E05 thread for comments going off-topic or subjecting my person.

<http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=121764&tstart=15&trange=15>

Thank you.

.

--

"A man's ethical behavior should be based effectually on sympathy, education, and social ties and needs; no religious basis is necessary. Man would indeed be in a poor way if he had to be restrained by fear of punishment and hope of reward after death."

[Albert Einstein, "Religion and Science", New York Times Magazine, 9 November 1930]

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Attachments:

-  AnnoyingPersonFilter.bmp (697.3 K)

Guest 44. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 21, 2005 11:03 PM

"Ilias Lazaridis" <ilias@lazaridis.com> wrote in message news:csm8og\$4j7\$1@is.intellij.net...

2005-01-19 (resend of initial application, with additional remark)

>

[I close this request here now. I like to tell you that your answering behaviour on a job application is more that unprofessional. A really unbelievable arrogance, which I would expect from large scale companies

where applications gets lost.]

>

>

Seems that JetBrains is not capable to detect.

>

Or they have no cash available.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

>

Anyway, topic closed.

ROTFL 😊)))

Guest 45. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 21, 2005 11:01 PM

"Ilias Lazaridis" <ilias@lazaridis.com> wrote in message

news:csm87k\$tb\$2@is.intellij.net...

Main Page\

- unserious impression, to much graphic
- I don't see an serious IDE vendor
=> Focus on IDE
- => get layout & design impressions from 'big-looking' companies.

- basic layout and organisation confusing
=> provide your main menu home, products, ...
- => provide standard navigation

I assume you mean main page of www.jetbrains.com

I like the style. "serious" usually means "boring". Their site has one problem: it is not liquid. The good thing that it is XHTML/CSS with no tables or frames, has variable character size, uses CSS media attribute (try print preview). Overall, I would say, very nice looking, well implemented site along with current trends.

<http://www.jetbrains.com/products.html>

- top menu which appears here should be on main-page , too

Did you see large blue blocks on the main page? They are clickable 😊 But I agree with you on that.

- Top section (white) should be inserted in "jetBrains" section (blue)

Purely a design issue. Not your problem, neither mine.

<http://www.jetbrains.com/idea/>

- too much header (body starts too low)
- "IntelliJ" is overloaded.
- holiday-special becomes annoying

- information overload
=> structure information

- if navigation-speed is critical
=> provide active menus (standard-left-placed)

- do not use drop-down-menus

Subjective, > /dev/null .

Cannot extract what "IntelliJ" is.

Cannot extract what "A" in "IDEA" means.

Whos problem is that?

Product naming switches between "IntelliJ IDEA" and "IDEA".

Ford Focus and Focus.

Suggestions:

>

Redesign Website

- slightly modified design & layout
- modularisation
- reduced information

Subjective, > /dev/null

I will rewrite the basic requirements expressed here:

>

TECHNOLOGY - JAVA + NetBeans + ??? = easy & scalable production!

>

<http://www.netbeans.org/servlets/ReadMsg?msgId=848269&listName=nbusers>

>

and can apply the directly to your products.

>

-

>

I can operate budget oriented.

Ah, now we getting somewhere. You found the illness and

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

selling a cure? How XIX century 😊 I guess they do not need your magic elixir 😊

Disclaimer: I am not affiliated with JetBrains.

Guest 46. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 22, 2005 2:31 AM

Michael Jouravlev wrote:

"Ilias Lazaridis" <ilias@lazaridis.com> wrote in message

...

Ah, now we getting somewhere. You found the illness and selling a cure? How XIX century 😊 I guess they do not need your magic elixir 😊

They need it [from me or from any other detail oriented person without a coding activity-trap].

Disclaimer: I am not affiliated with JetBrains.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

[note: I've just publicized my job-application conversation, thus any reader can evaluate if "silence" was an justified response.]

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Rob Bradley 306 posts since

Oct 8, 2003 47. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 22, 2005 3:59 AM

I'm sorry but I wouldn't give you a job based upon that application, in fact because of all the links in it my spam defender would probably have blocked it before it even hit my inbox.

If you were intent on putting in an application it should have taken this format:

1 > Brief covering letter (2-3 paras) saying what you would like to do and why you think you can make it worthwhile.

2 > Attach a copy of your CV where you can include these links under evidence of previous work if you wanted to.

JetBrains probably get hundreds of applications since they are one of the most respected medium-sized technology companies in the industry. Your "application" was not properly structured and as such probably got lost in the crowd.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Guest 48. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 22, 2005 5:04 AM

Rob Bradley wrote:

...

JetBrains probably get hundreds of applications since they are one of the most respected medium-sized technology companies in the industry.

They have lost my respect.

Your "application" was not properly structured and as such probably got lost in the crowd.

I'm not interested in an ordinary company which insists on 'properly structured' applications.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Colin Fleming 660 posts since

Dec 30, 2004 49. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 22, 2005 6:53 PM

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

They have lost my respect.

I'm sure the feeling is mutual.

I'm not intrested in an ordinary company which insists on 'properly structured' applications.

So why did you apply?

Rob Bradley 306 posts since

Oct 8, 2003 50. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 22, 2005 8:02 PM

I'm not intrested in an ordinary company which insists on 'properly structured' applications.

Getting work can't be easy for somebody of your mindset.

Guest 51. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 22, 2005 8:49 PM

Rob Bradley wrote:

>>I'm not intrested in an ordinary company which >>insists on 'properly structured' applications.

Getting work can't be easy for somebody of your mindset.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

you are right.

It is very difficult.

But I'm sure i will shortly find the company (or the company me) which is worth my loyalty.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Dmitry Kashin 1,052 posts since

Aug 23, 2002 52. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 22, 2005 9:46 PM

It may be not software, but medical company.

Guest 53. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 22, 2005 9:57 PM

Dmitry Kashin wrote:

It may be not software, but medical company.

Don't worry.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

I will not go nuts.

I'm highly immune against the irrationality within human populated software development systems.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Rayz 839 posts since

Aug 27, 2002 54. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 24, 2005 1:13 AM

I'm curious.

When was your last job?

I mean a job where you had to work with people

Guest 55. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 24, 2005 5:36 AM

Rayz wrote:

I'm curious.

When was your last job?

I mean a job where you had to work with people

I don't hide my failures:

<http://lazaridis.com/resumes/lazaridis.html>

I have interpersonal skills.

But not when i'm analyzing a domain

let's close this topic here, or please move to the E05 thread

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Rayz 839 posts since

Aug 27, 2002 56. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 26, 2005 4:22 PM

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

>> I don't hide my failures: <<

That's very admirable.

>> I have interpersonal skills. <<

That's a matter of opinion.

>> But not when i'm analyzing a domain <<

That's when you need them most

Guest 57. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 27, 2005 9:42 AM

Rayz wrote:

>>>I don't hide my failures: <<

That's very admirable.

ok

>>>I have interpersonal skills. <<

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

That's a matter of opinion.

No, this is a simple fact.

>>>But not when i'm analyzing a domain <<

That's when you need them most

No, I do not need them.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Rayz 839 posts since

Aug 27, 2002 58. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 27, 2005 5:01 PM

>>

That's a matter of opinion.

No, this is a simple fact. <<

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

There has been no evidence presented in this forum to back up this 'fact'; so I'm afraid it remains a matter of opinion ... yours.

>>

>>>But not when i'm analyzing a domain <<

>

That's when you need them most

No, I do not need them. <<

If that's what you believe, then good luck convincing JetBrains (or anyone else) to take you seriously.

Guest 59. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 28, 2005 6:26 AM

Rayz wrote:

>> That's a matter of opinion.

No, this is a simple fact. <<

There has been no evidence presented in this forum to back up this 'fact'; so I'm afraid it remains a matter of opinion ... yours.

faulty conclusion. [evidence within forum not necessarily precondition for existence.]

>>> But not when i'm analyzing a domain <<

>>

>> That's when you need them most

No, I do not need them. <<

If that's what you believe, then good luck convincing JetBrains (or anyone else) to take you seriously.

thank you.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Rayz 839 posts since

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Aug 27, 2002 60. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 30, 2005 12:07 PM

faulty conclusion. evidence within forum not necessarily precondition for existence.

The conclusion is quite correct. If this is the way you behave in front of your 'perspective employers' then nothing else can be said really; as well as proving that you are not actually employable in any capacity, for any kind of work (IT or otherwise). At first, I thought you were just playing a very odd joke. Now, I've actually become increasingly concerned for your mental health. Seriously.

Your strategy for getting work from JetBrains has switched between making arrogant demands, insulting their CEO and begging them for a job (the worst strategy anyone can employ for getting an IT job IMO). And when these attempts all fail, you then retreat into a comfortable make-believe world where you are right and everyone else is just stupid, rather than accept the fact that they just have no use for someone like you. You really need to do something about your communication skills and self-esteem.

thank you.

No problem, I just it helps.

Guest 61. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 30, 2005 1:29 PM

Rayz wrote:

+faulty conclusion. [evidence within forum not necessarily precondition for existence.]+

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

The conclusion is quite correct.

... - (context irrelevant comments)

Your conclusion remains faulty.

thank you.

No problem, I just it helps.

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Dave Levitt 172 posts since

Feb 24, 2004 62. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 27, 2005 4:36 PM

Remember, he's providing a valuable service - as an 'opinion inverter'.

If he likes something, be suspicious and investigate further before implementing or using.

If he dislikes something, put it at the top of your list to evaluate. It's likely to be quite useful.

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Guest 63. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 30, 2005 12:34 AM

Dave Levitt wrote:

Remember, he's providing a valuable service - as an 'opinion inverter'.

If he likes something, be suspicious and investigate further before implementing or using.

I like IntelliJ.

If he dislikes something, put it at the top of your list to evaluate.

It's likely to be quite useful.

I dislike the overall java community lack of liberal qualities

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

Fred Faber 15 posts since

Sep 30, 2004 64. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 29, 2005 11:57 AM

Ilias,

Your English skills are terrible; therefore, you can not hope to be successful in a career in communication.

You say your Java skills are novice at best; therefore, you can not hope to be successful in a career in Java development.

Given this, you are still posting to this forum. By doing so, you simply are decreasing the bandwidth of the forum. You are offering NO additional information, but you are consuming time and space on the board.

I challenge you to prove that your English skills are sufficient to sustain a career in communications. I challenge you to prove that your software development skills are sufficient to sustain a career as a software engineer.

You will fail in both of these challenges. This, because you are a failure. You bolster your own weak self-confidence in attacking the work of others.

I wish you no luck in finding a career; you are out of work now, and it is no surprise why this is. You are abrasive, inconsiderate, and arrogant. I will ensure this description follows you where you may venture. Your behavior on this forum will not be forgotten, nor will it be condoned.

This is not the forum to exercise your bitterness towards JetBrains (as they obviously ignored your inadequate resume).

Again, no luck to you in finding a daily exercise that will consume more of your time than you will have as spare to post your nonsense on this forum.

Guest 65. Re: [EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team Jan 30, 2005 12:33 AM

Fred Faber wrote:

Ilias,

Your English skills are terrible; therefore, you can not hope to be successful in a career in communication.

...

Are you a female?

You sound like you fell in love with me.

anyway, you are a little late.

The topics are closed.

-

[EVALUATION] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO,...

EVALUATION - E05 - Community / Community Feedback

<http://www.intellij.net/forums/thread.jsp?forum=27&thread=121764&message=3436291>

.

--

<http://lazaridis.com>

Guest 66. Re: [\[EVALUATION\] - E07 - JetBrains, CEO, Team](#) Jan 30, 2005 6:39 PM

Ilias Lazaridis wrote:

Fred Faber wrote:

>> Ilias,

>>

>> Your English skills are terrible; therefore, you can not hope to be >> successful in a career in communication.

...

Are you a female?

You sound like you fell in love with me.

anyway, you are a little late.

The topics are closed.

OK, I vote this to be the weirdest post of all the threads so far in IntelliJ forums, at least since I joined in (summer of 2002).

If anyone remembers something more funny, ludicrous, amazing or strange please stand up, and later reply to this post.

This conclusion reminds me some other backward thought processes that I had to endure in my last job, and deserve a standing ovation.

Amnon