

Include all messages / VCS commit...

Good afternoon,

currently we have e.g. one successful build, followed by 4-5 failed builds which all contain their individual list of changes to their predecessors, but what we need for successful builds is all commit comments/messages since the last successful build all together in the changelog/mail (since testers only are interested in passed builds and need to know what has been changed ever since the last testable system). Is that currently possible / planned?

Cheers,

-J

Jörg,

This is currently not possible. Here is an issue to address this: <http://youtrack.jetbrains.net/issue/TW-2812> Please vote/watch/comment for it.
