

How to change default DOCTYPE

---

Alexander DiMauro 8 posts since

Feb 9, 2010

How do you change the default DOCTYPE that shows up when you create a new html/xhtml file? I want to use the strict DTDs, but they default to the transitional. When I click 'Edit File Templates...', only the php/xslt templates are listed on the dialog that shows up. Where are the html/xhtml templates?

Tags: html, doctype, templates

Alexey Gopachenko 1,294 posts since

Aug 22, 2002 1. Re: How to change default DOCTYPE Feb 9, 2010 11:18 AM

Looks like we have internal platform configuration problem. I filed an issue <http://youtrack.jetbrains.net/issue/WI-1067> please vote/watch

Alexander DiMauro 8 posts since

Feb 9, 2010 2. Re: How to change default DOCTYPE Feb 9, 2010 2:56 PM

Thank you for your response. I suppose one work-around for now would be to just create new templates.

I'm looking forward to the final release, so far Web IDE is great!

Thanks,

--Alex